Being LGBT Friendly Beyond Flying the Rainbow Flag

So you know what LGBT stands for, but how do you create a safe and welcoming space for your LGBT clients?

Ilana Sherer is a pediatrician with expertise in adolescent medicine and transgender youth. She created the Child and Adolescent Gender Center at UCSF, a medical home for gender non-conforming and transgender children, and currently serves as its Assistant Medical Director. She was recognized by UCSF for her efforts with the Chancellors Award for GLBT Leadership, and by the American Academy of Pediatrics with the Ann E. Dyson Child Advocacy Award. Professionally, she divides her time between the Gender Center, the Medical Directorship of Daly City Youth Health Center, and Palo Alto Medical Foundation as a pediatric urgent care provider.
